

Communications Manager Media Relations and Site Reputation (m/f/d)

Nourishing lotions, mild shampoos, protective sunscreens. Gentle, environmentally friendly detergents and high-performance household and industrial cleaners - all these products contain ingredients made by our Care Chemicals division. Beyond that, we also offer, for example, solutions for plant protection, for technical applications in construction chemistry or raw materials for the coatings industry. We collaborate with our customers worldwide to develop innovative solutions which appeal to end-users and industrial formulators - more and more based on natural and sustainably sourced raw materials.
